USES & BENEFITS

- Meadowfoam oil is used in the cosmetic and hair-care industry. This is because of its stability, lubricity, and ability to stay on the skin.
- Meadowfoam oil has various qualities which make it highly resistant to oxidation and heat. Therefore it is a valuable material for personal-care products.
- The Meadowfoam oil is said to be one of the most shelf-stable lipids known and remains liquid at room temperature despite its molecular weight. Thus, meadowfoam oil is very stable, even when heated or exposed to the air.
