

SAGE

INDIAN SAGE EXPORTERS

- Sage is a staple herb that has a strong aroma and an earthy flavor. It is a powerhouse of nutrients and minerals. The Sage exporter in India exports huge quantities of the product to different regions of the world. Due to its various health benefits, the popularity of Sage has risen across the world. This popularity has led to an increase in Sage export from India. The Indian Sage exporter exports premium quality of the product abroad following all the health and safety regulations. The Sage export from India is, therefore, a good business opportunity.

GLOBAL MARKET DEMAND

- The Global Market Demand for Sage has been increasing for some years. This may be because of the awareness of its several health and medicinal benefits. The Sage exporter in India today earns good revenue from the export business. The growing popularity of Sage and its products is, therefore, a great opportunity for local farmers and vendors to expand their business and enter the international market. The Sage import from India has been rising owing to the fact that the quality of Sage exported from India is one of the best in the world.

SAGE

SPECIFICATION

Product Name

Sage

Origin

Mediterranean

Family

Mints

Binomial Name

Salvia officinalis

SAGE

INGREDIENTS

Nutrients

Calories 2, Carbs 0.4 grams,
Fiber 0.56 grams

Minerals

Magnesium, Manganese, Copper
Phosphorous, Zinc, Copper

Vitamins

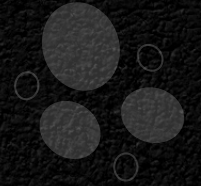

Vitamin C, Vitamin K1, Vitamin A

Protein

0.1 g

Fats

0.1 g

USES & BENEFITS

- Sage is full of antioxidants. These antioxidants are linked to several health benefits, including improved brain function, lower cancer risk so on and so forth.
- Sage is also said to have antimicrobial properties. These characteristics of Sage may help kill microbes that encourage the growth of dental plaque.
- Sage may also help reduce the intensity and frequency of menopause symptoms. Menopause symptoms like hot flashes and irritability may be reduced.
- Sage may lower blood sugar levels by increasing insulin sensitivity. But more research on this benefit of sage is needed.

Pisum Foods is one of the leading Sage importers from India. We hold a great amount of experience in the food export industry and know the nature of this industry inside out. Our executives will help you right from finding buyers for your products until the final delivery of the order. We will also conduct an in-depth market analysis of the product and its market trends. We make the process of export of Sage hassle-free and easy for our clients. Sage is in great demand in the international market and is experiencing great profits now. If you are looking for Sage export from India, Contact Pisum now!